

City of Hope Outpost in Struggle Against Disease

Medical science, with many victories to its credit, still has a hard and difficult road to travel. Though other illnesses of man has taken body blows, there are still dread maladies—cancer—the leukemias—certain hereditary ailments—all yet to be tamed.

An outpost on such medical frontiers is the City of Hope near Los Angeles, a pilot medical center. Over the years, scientists there have developed numerous "first" in the battle against catastrophic diseases.

Only a "pilot" approach could develop such weapons against cancer as the first radioactive cesium unit in daily use in the U.S., or a Parent Participation Program in a Children's Wing caring for fatally-ill youngsters.

LAUNCH STUDIES
The City of Hope recently launched an Institute for Advanced Learning in the Medical Sciences, Modeled on Princeton's work in the physical sciences, this institute is a "retreat for intellectuals" concentrating on the long range problems of biomedical research.

Over the years this 90-acre pilot facility has accepted, without cost to any patient, and without discrimination, victims of the yet unsolved maladies.

Now, in behalf of the City of Hope, your help is asked. Let your contribution reflect the importance of the searching and the solving that the City of Hope has set as its pilot mission. Give generously on Hope Sunday, June 4.

Coast Guard Enlistment Open Now

Ltjg H. J. Milloy, public information officer for the eleventh coast guard district with headquarters in Long Beach, California announced this week that high school seniors may now apply for enlistment in the Coast Guard and delay their actual enlistment and departure for basic training up to ninety days.

This new policy is designed so seniors may apply for enlistment while still in school and then after graduation they may spend the summer months on vacation before taking basic training at Alameda, California.

"The number of young men applying for enlistment after school graduation" said Lt. Milloy, "Usually necessitates being placed on a waiting list. This is an opportunity for young men to secure a place on that waiting list while there are still vacancies available for summer enlistments."

In the Long Beach area they should contact the Coast Guard office in room 104 Times Building, Broadway & Long Beach Blvd. or call HEmlack 7-7434 for complete information.

TB Cases Need Morale Boosters

Eyelash curlers and oil paints are among the unusual morale boosters requested of Christmas Seal Association volunteers by patients in the chest disease ward at Los Angeles County General Hospital.

On addition to shopping for persons hospitalized with respiratory illnesses, volunteers help with craft projects from the hospital's occupational therapy unit, read and write letters and share birthday and special celebrations.

"This kind of direct personal service to patients is a new and vitally rewarding feature of our year-round volunteer program," says Mrs. Harold Tegart, chairman of the volunteer advisory committee, Tuberculosis and Health Association of L.A. County.

Further details of this program and other volunteer activities of this association may be obtained at DUNKIRK 8-3401.

Penney's Store Scene of Local Polio Program

Polio vaccine shots at $1 each will be given in Torrance, Saturday, June 3, from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the J. C. Penney Store, Del Amo Shopping Center, Hawthorne Blvd. and Carson St.

Sponsoring the community service event are members of Torrance Junior Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the March of Dimes.

Doug Hedde, chairman of the project, urged parents to protect children and themselves against paralytic polio before the high incidence season in late summer and early fall.

Last year children under ten years of age accounted for 60 per cent of all paralytic polio cases in Los Angeles County, it was pointed out. Three properly spaced shots are needed for complete protection, with annual booster shots recommended.

March of Dimes officials declared that with the stepped-up inoculation program now underway, intervals between inoculations should be two weeks between the first two injections, with the third administered four weeks later.

They pointed out that the new oral Sabin vaccine will not be generally available in time to combat polio during the approaching polio season, but that there is no shortage of the effective Salk vaccine.

Torrance High Grad Class Gives Painting to School

"The Search," a starkly illuminated painting by Jim Stancin of Beverly Hills, is the choice of this year's senior class as a gift to Torrance High School. Senior Class President Virginia Krauszer will present the picture to the student body at an assembly this week. Dr. Carl R. Ahee, principal, will accept on behalf of the student body.

Jim Stancin is a neo-romantic painter with a highly individualized style, which fuses clear tones and strong patterns into a single poetic image. Viewers usually identify themselves with Stancin's sense of the dramatic and with his projection of man's loneliness.

Quality and mood distinguish his paintings. His compositions are open in structure, economical of line, uncluttered and brilliantly illuminated.

Stancin studied at the Chicago Art Institute in New York with Al Landers and in Europe with Al Lecoque, a former pupil of Renoir.

He was active as director of the American Academy of Art in Los Angeles before opening a studio and gallery in Beverly Hills. He is a member of the Santa Monica Art Association, the Westwood Art Association and the American Institute of Fine Arts. His paintings are included in many private collections, particularly in the Hollywood movie colony, New York, Canada, and in South America.

This painting is a valuable addition to the growing art collection of Torrance High School, started four years ago. Some of the noted-artists represented in the collection are the late Henry L. Richter, noted Southland artist; Douglas MacFadden of Walnut, California; Frank Mancuso, now assistant curator of the Chrysler Museum in Provincetown, Massachusetts; and Vic Smith, outstanding young Southern California artist who recently won first place award at the La Jolla Art Center.

Enrollment Figures Show 613 Teachers Needed Here

Preliminary enrollment figures indicate that 613 teachers will be needed to handle the 22,000 elementary youngsters in Torrance schools next fall, according to a report to the Board of Education Tuesday.

Plans call for 61 per cent of the elementary classes as single grades; 26 per cent as "combination" grades (two grades in one room); and 12 per cent in "Little Red Schoolhouse" or "multigrade" (three grades in one room, with parental permission).

Without "combination" and "multigrade" plans, the district would need to hire 125 more teachers at a cost of about $770,000, the report said.

Combination classes take care of schools where there are an odd number of children in a given grade, so that an average ratio of 34 students to one teacher can be maintained. (A school might have enough second graders for 2½ classes and enough third graders for 2½ classes. By combining one class of second and third graders, five teachers can be hired instead of six).

The "Little Red Schoolhouse" or "multigrade" plan, started at WALTERIA School in 1955, places children from three different grades in one room for instruction. This plan costs no more than a single grade, but helps the teacher to "individualize" instruction, the report said. At most Torrance schools, parents can request that their children be placed in "multigrade" classes.
